South Solitary display home

WHY ENGAGE THE SERVICES OF A PROFESSIONAL DESIGN TEAM

FOR most of us, building or renovating a home is one of the most important, and potentially stressful, projects we will undertake. Engaging a professional in this area can take a great weight off your shoulders as, working in the industry, they are kept up to date with statutory regulations, environmental strategies, the latest trends and products available for your specific needs. In other words, they can guide you through the entire process, ensuring you plan your project effectively and your hard-earned dollars are invested in a home that is the most efficient it can be for your family and your site.

You will be surrounded by sound

THE Forte A-BUS music system, as installed in South Solitary, is an elegant, simple way to submerge yourself in sound.

It can be designed for one to 100 rooms.

Music sources can be centrally distributed throughout your home but unique to A-BUS is the capability of having local source connection in bedrooms or study, when a more personalised choice is desired.

Forte A-BUS offers iPod wall docks, controllable via remote, Bluetooth connectivity and either inwall keypads or (if you don't want a keypad), IR speakers with handheld remotes.

This iPod-ready display home offers the iPod wall dock as the main source to four rooms and a second iPod wall dock for local music in the office.

A-BUS patented technology is primarily a one-cable solution, without any programming and can be installed by any builder's electrician or AV installer.

It is also energy efficient as a four-room system draws less electricity than one standard light globe.
